

Line-Lok® line tensioners

Leading tent manufacturers are using Clamcleat® Line-Lok® cleats for positive control of guy-lines.

- Locks lines securely to resist being shaken loose, even in extreme conditions.
- Suitable for use in harsh environments from the arctic cold to the desert heat.
- Four sizes available for ropes up to 8mm (5/16").

Easy to rig

Easy to tension

Easy to release

CL266 ideal for lightweight tents, shelters using small diameter lines.

CL266 keeps tension all day and night. Helps prevent sagging in the rain.

CL271 is for larger canvas structures. Working load over 150 (330 lbs). Rigged 2:1, non slip functionality prolongs the life of the tent when pitched for long periods.

Lightweight tents

CL260 ideal for use on tents at high altitude or where high winds are expected.

Portable aerals

CL276 ideal for stabilising portable aerals.

Gary Rolfe testimonial.

Clamcleat guy rope adjusters are one of those attentions to detail that help make Arctic life run smoothly. Setting up camp alone in horrid winds at forty below zero warrants survival mode. Simple to use with big mittens on Clamcleat guy rope adjusters enable me to secure my tent to anchor points, fast. Arctic storms can keep me tent bound for days. Guy ropes fitted with Line-Loks don't buckle or budge.
