Boating holidays in Greece is often a highlight in the travel plans of both sailors and motorboat drivers. Whether with an own boat or with a chartered vessel it is a fantastic cruising ground with friendly people and charming anchorages. In order to navigate safely through the challenging waters and to be prepared when the weather may turn stormy, it is of utmost importance to have up-to-date and reliable charts which are easy to work with.

Modern paper charts are produced as atlas

The team at the NV Chart Group has a long and successful experience in providing chart products which are designed for leisure boat mariners. The modern format for paper charts is an atlas-bound chartwork which consists of large-scale overview charts to facilitate passage planning, medium scale coastal charts and large-scale harbour plans, detail charts and special charts for particular complex areas. The atlas keeps all charts in a fixed order, so the reference to other charts can be found immediately. It also enables to produce size A2 charts in an A3 booklet which is easy to stow away in the chart table.

Digital navigation makes boating safe

Included in all nv charts atlas products is the digital cartography for the region. It uses the same chart content including all details, plans and large-scale charts. It is designed for use with the nv charts app, which is available for the following operation systems: iOS, MacOS, Android, Windows. The app can be installed on tablets, phones or PC (Windows and MacOS).

The app plots the position of the vessel, shows AIS contacts, routing and, subject to mobile network availability, can show weather forecast as an overlay on the charts.
