

Seal Aftermarket Products is a leader in the global automotive aftermarket, specializing in automatic transmissions kits and components. The premium brands of Seal Aftermarket Products have been distributed throughout the world for more than thirty (30) years. The Bryco™ is the preferred brand of Russia, South America, the Caribbean, and Asia. Toledo Trans-Kit™ is widely accepted in the United States, Mexico, Canada, and Venezuela. Our automatic transmission kits and components cover all American, Asian, and European automatic transmissions. We have more than 250 different overhaul kit applications. Our product is installed and tested for quality assurance.

Seal Aftermarket Products promotes a culture of innovation. This innovative focus is evident in the customer-specific product we package, the internal processes created for increased customer satisfaction, and the emerging technologies used by prominent suppliers. We support trademarked brands such as Parker Hannifin, Federal Mogul, Dupont, Borg Warner, to name a few.

Two tech support lines are operating to assist customers with product questions:
